

Wednesday Morning

Dear Mom:

Was sorry not to have heard from you this morning because if you are really looking forward to my coming home this weekend, I could make it, but if so, I wouldn't have enough money to last until the 15th. Didn't save out quite enough this time for everyday expenses. Also, it seems rather extravagant to come up now and also the long weekend of Washington's Birthday. So unless I hear from you this evening or tomorrow morning that you are really counting on it, I guess I will postpone the trip until two weeks from now. I'm pretty sure we don't get a holiday on the 12th.

I got a nice birthday letter from my brother last evening. He seems to be enjoying his schooling as much as possible, anyway. His letter was very interesting. However, I am in a quandry as to his address. On the first letter I got from him it was "Co. I", and on this one, "Co. V". Perhaps you can tell me which it is. He didn't mention having received my letter, so maybe the first is wrong. Will use the "Co. V" when I write to him next.

Must close now and mail this to you and will be seeing you at a later date.

With love,

Julia
