

Saturday A.M.

Dear Mom - So glad to get your letter this morning. Was waiting to hear from you before writing again. Glad to know that you think you are on the mend at last. No doubt the sulphur pills are a help. Please continue to take it easy.

Your subtle humor about George & Elizabeth and the others was very good.

We have had a busy week here since I got back but all having a quiet weekend with the exception of the Don Cossack recital tomorrow night. The notice you sent about them was very interesting. Going to rest & listen to "Die Walküre" this afternoon. I had to work until 6:30 Wednesday & Thursday nights, but all that ought to be over now that Mr. Lowe will be back next week. Am going to try to take it easier. After I finish this letter I am going to figure out my income tax. Next week I have to help Mr. Carter with his.

Do you want me to exchange the white slip for a shorter one, or just return it? I guess you want another one.

Thanks a lot for sending Fred's letter. That is the only way I seem to hear from him. He seems quite concerned about you. Will write to him soon. The other day I met a nice young chap just off for O.C.S. at Aberdeen. When I said my brother was there, he whipped out his address book.

I also heard of a new job which I could have looked into but it was up in Meriden Ct & I'm not ready to leave New York yet so didn't follow it up.

Will get to some of my Saturday duties now. My laundry case didn't come until last night - quite a long time since I mailed it on Monday. The mails are certainly terrible.

Take care now and I'm thinking that I may be up again in a couple of weeks or so. We had a little snowfall down here last night.

12 o'clock now, the awful sirens are going full blast.

Lots of love,
Julia
